On the occasion of Hundertwasser's 90th birthday, the Gemeinnützige Hundertwasser Privatstiftung has exclusively commissioned ARTES with his previously unpublished last graphic work.

The last graphic work 1994-2000 consists of 7 screenprints, 2 editions of colour etchings, 4 Japanese woodcuts and 23 colour etchings of the doodles, created by Hundertwasser since the year 1985 and printed between 1996 and 1999.

Hundertwasser screenprints:

Hundertwasser was able to achieve a variety of new expressive possibilities and pictorial effects in screenprints by using a sophisticated technique as well as manual processing. Hundertwasser was a forerunner in the development of new techniques and the use of new materials.

For example, he used metal foil embossing and fluorescent colours, reflective glass dust overlays or electrostatic flocking already in his first serigraphs. In collaboration with printer Claudio Barbato in Venice, Hundertwasser achieved his goal of creating both colour and form variations within an edition, with the result that each sheet of an edition is different in colour and design from all the others, i.e. a unique piece.

Screenprint in 17 colours with metal embossing in 4 colours. Venice, 1997. 333 copies, signed and numbered 1-333/333. Catalogue raisonné 963. Unframed. Motif size/sheet size 90 x 60 cm. HWG 1-333/333.
