

Jeff Koons: Sculpture "Red Diamond" (2020)

Product no.: IN-920550

This "Red Diamond" porcelain sculpture features a gold and red chrome coating that lends the object a particularly noble character and makes the surface of the work appear flawless and perfect. In a collaboration with the Bernardaud porcelain manufactory in Limoges, France, which has been producing since 1863, this attractive and aesthetic edition has been created.

The motif of the red diamond comes from the "Celebrations" series of works, the original sculpture was made between 1994 and 2005 and measures over two metres.

The edition of the "Red Diamond" appeared only recently and is already an extremely sought-after collector's item among lovers of the art of the exceptional US American. A special attraction of the sculpture is that even its packaging was personally designed by the artist.

Sculpture made of porcelain, with chrome coating, 2020. Edition: 599 copies, burned-in signature of Jeff Koons and edition number on the back. Height: 39 cm. Width: 32 cm.
